

Mirror people

Through the looking glass

By ALICE

The planned leaving of Big T Restaurant, Rt. 6, Brookside Street, to Kentucky's Colonel Chicken has been postponed at least until spring, according to Dave Shirkman of Saul Motors, whose better-half, Louise, is head lady of the popular across-the-high-school partying. Our evening paper-person, perky animal lover Ellen Mulally of Jermyn, recuperating at her home after a 106-degree temperature forced her into the hospital.

Get well wishes to Patsy LaRosa also of Jermyn, who had major surgery at St. Joe's recently, as didn't need that gall bladder anyway. Paul, always a pleasure to talk by phone with Seratone Times political writer and analyst Joseph N. Flannery, who called last Tuesday's general election just about right. Are some personal changes being anticipated at the up-valley bureau of one of Seratone's dailies? That's what the talk on the streets of Carbondale indicates.

Belated birthday wishes to Joseph Jermyn, Sr., 262 Franklin St., on Nov. 8, and Jerry Kurmas, St. Jefferson Ave., on Nov. 8. John and Evelyn Barbano planning big doings for their 35th wedding anniversary Nov. 15. Congratulations!

Community concert series

Call Esther Singer at 282-2203 if you're a music lover and want to sign up for the Community Concerts series, the runs as you don't have to hoof it too far to Masonic Temple, great cut of eliminate driving when winter roads get icy. Ellie, John and Freda Nicholson of Jermyn recently played hosts to Mr. and Mrs. John Blair, daughter, Kristy Lynn and son, Sean, of Dunfries, Va., over a weekend.

CA class elicits

Members of Carbondale Area Class of 1977 met recently to plan a 10-year reunion. Elected committee heads were publicity, Margaret Mossi and Ann Marie Gilotti; tickets, Mike Grandinetti and Jack Oakley; hostess, Carol Bianchetti; Lisa Foulard, Anita Kalkowski, photographer, Eve Striano, and Ann Marie Smith, Reservation, Margaret Criscera and Ann Marie Blotta. Activities and prizes, Mike Deriche.

Classmates will receive further information by mail concerning the reunion. Meanwhile, any questions can be directed to either Margaret Criscera or Ann Marie Blotta.

The Auxiliary to the Arden Fire Company of Jermyn will hold its annual Christmas party at Crystal Point Restaurant, Crystal Lake, at 7 p.m. Dec. 11. Members and guests may make reservations by Dec. 7.

Mayfield's Tom Grimes, of Lakeland Market, interviewed tatter Thursday for the weekly "market basket" on WFL.

A little bird told us upcoming Car-Maxor Jimmy McMyne had a last brother who was also a mayor of a New Jersey community.

Speaking of mayors, Frank Asak, who was elected mayor of Moose last week, is related to the Looch family, of the grocery store, who is called "we're not sure who it is" with Bea Stewart Pultz of 30 Riverside Dr., Peckville, a native and former resident of Jermyn, a belated Nov. 3 birthday, so Seymour resigned at the Trail, Oct. 21 meeting, citing his feeling that a recent State Supreme Court ruling making it mandatory for school districts to file financial interest statements was an invasion of his privacy.

Could he help but notice that across-the-street neighbor Frank's TV and Appliances delivered fresh cut of pork on the exterior. Rumor has it that while the work was being carried out, many admirers gathered across the street to watch the unusual painting techniques of John "Smiley" Cerra.

One of the admirers was Joe "Sticky" Muro who wished he had a camera to capture the painter's skills on film.

Don't forget Monks' Jermyn Library Board-house-to-house book Sunday, Nov. 15. Leave a note or a sign in your

Obituaries

HOLUP
MRS. MARY E. HOLUP, 80, 1040 St. Francis St., died Saturday, Nov. 11, at St. Joseph's Hospital after an illness of several months.

Born in Chicago, she was the wife of the late Michael and Mary Holup. She was a member of St. John the Baptist Church, Chicago, and a member of the Holy Family Club.

Surviving are her wife, the former Stella Kachuck; two sons, Louis and Charles; two daughters, Mary and Elizabeth; and a grandson, Michael. She was a member of the Holy Family Club.

The funeral was held Saturday, Nov. 14, at 10 a.m. in St. John the Baptist Church, Chicago. Burial was in Holy Family Cemetery.

KITIK
SAMUEL, late of 24 Midland St., Simpson died at Carbondale General Hospital after an illness of several months.

Surviving are his wife, the former Rose Denney and daughter, Patricia. He was a member of the Holy Family Club.

The funeral was held Saturday, Nov. 14, at 10 a.m. in St. John the Baptist Church, Chicago. Burial was in Holy Family Cemetery.

KREUTZ
MRS. DIANA KREUTZ, 81, 1040 St. Francis St., died Saturday, Nov. 11, at St. Joseph's Hospital after an illness of several months.

Born in Chicago, she was the wife of the late Michael and Mary Kreutz. She was a member of St. John the Baptist Church, Chicago, and a member of the Holy Family Club.

Surviving are her wife, the former Stella Kachuck; two sons, Louis and Charles; two daughters, Mary and Elizabeth; and a grandson, Michael. She was a member of the Holy Family Club.

The funeral was held Saturday, Nov. 14, at 10 a.m. in St. John the Baptist Church, Chicago. Burial was in Holy Family Cemetery.

MONAHAN
MRS. LILLIAN MONAHAN, 81, 1040 St. Francis St., died Saturday, Nov. 11, at St. Joseph's Hospital after an illness of several months.

Born in Chicago, she was the wife of the late Michael and Mary Monahan. She was a member of St. John the Baptist Church, Chicago, and a member of the Holy Family Club.

Surviving are her wife, the former Stella Kachuck; two sons, Louis and Charles; two daughters, Mary and Elizabeth; and a grandson, Michael. She was a member of the Holy Family Club.

The funeral was held Saturday, Nov. 14, at 10 a.m. in St. John the Baptist Church, Chicago. Burial was in Holy Family Cemetery.

SMILEY
EUGENE E. SMILEY, 81, 1040 St. Francis St., died Saturday, Nov. 11, at St. Joseph's Hospital after an illness of several months.

Born in Chicago, he was the husband of the late Mary Smiley. He was a member of St. John the Baptist Church, Chicago, and a member of the Holy Family Club.

Surviving are his wife, the former Stella Kachuck; two sons, Louis and Charles; two daughters, Mary and Elizabeth; and a grandson, Michael. He was a member of the Holy Family Club.

The funeral was held Saturday, Nov. 14, at 10 a.m. in St. John the Baptist Church, Chicago. Burial was in Holy Family Cemetery.

SNYDER
MAURICE, late of 1040 St. Francis St., died Saturday, Nov. 11, at St. Joseph's Hospital after an illness of several months.

Born in Chicago, he was the husband of the late Mary Snyder. He was a member of St. John the Baptist Church, Chicago, and a member of the Holy Family Club.

Surviving are his wife, the former Stella Kachuck; two sons, Louis and Charles; two daughters, Mary and Elizabeth; and a grandson, Michael. He was a member of the Holy Family Club.

The funeral was held Saturday, Nov. 14, at 10 a.m. in St. John the Baptist Church, Chicago. Burial was in Holy Family Cemetery.

WILLIAMS
MRS. LILLIAN WILLIAMS, 81, 1040 St. Francis St., died Saturday, Nov. 11, at St. Joseph's Hospital after an illness of several months.

Born in Chicago, she was the wife of the late Michael and Mary Williams. She was a member of St. John the Baptist Church, Chicago, and a member of the Holy Family Club.

Surviving are her wife, the former Stella Kachuck; two sons, Louis and Charles; two daughters, Mary and Elizabeth; and a grandson, Michael. She was a member of the Holy Family Club.

The funeral was held Saturday, Nov. 14, at 10 a.m. in St. John the Baptist Church, Chicago. Burial was in Holy Family Cemetery.

ALBERT H. CRANE Post 221 American Legion held its installation dinner at Bilotta's Restaurant Saturday night. Seated, from left, are Joseph N. Griffin, senior vice commander; Thomas F. Kane, first vice commander; Mark Evans, commander; Robert E. Reilly, District 11 American Legion commander, installing officer; Mary K. Papke, adjutant; Standing, same order, are Robert DeGrazio, financial officer; John Langman, sergeant-at-arms; Anthony Cianfrone, service officer; Larry Totsky, chaplain; Anthony Ielenko, baseball chairman; John Crelly, second vice commander; Kay Wiltz, historian. (MIRROR photo by Ros-Al)

Clifford area news

Restaurant waitresses dress for Halloween

By STEFAN KELLAK

On Saturday, Oct. 31, it was fun at the Mountain View Restaurant in Clifford. Waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween.

The first time the waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween was in 1979. Since that time, the waitresses have been dressing in costumes for Halloween.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

ALBERT H. CRANE Post 221 American Legion held its installation dinner at Bilotta's Restaurant Saturday night. Seated, from left, are Joseph N. Griffin, senior vice commander; Thomas F. Kane, first vice commander; Mark Evans, commander; Robert E. Reilly, District 11 American Legion commander, installing officer; Mary K. Papke, adjutant; Standing, same order, are Robert DeGrazio, financial officer; John Langman, sergeant-at-arms; Anthony Cianfrone, service officer; Larry Totsky, chaplain; Anthony Ielenko, baseball chairman; John Crelly, second vice commander; Kay Wiltz, historian. (MIRROR photo by Ros-Al)

Clifford area news

Restaurant waitresses dress for Halloween

By STEFAN KELLAK

On Saturday, Oct. 31, it was fun at the Mountain View Restaurant in Clifford. Waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween.

The first time the waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween was in 1979. Since that time, the waitresses have been dressing in costumes for Halloween.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

The waitresses dressed in costumes for Halloween. The costumes were very creative and the waitresses were very professional.

Mirror reports

City hall reports

Paving

It's contracted, city managing director Martin P. Judge told the Carbondale Mirror, about the city's 1981 Liquid Fuels Program paving program.

However, repeating what he had told the MIRROR in its Oct. 21 issue, Judge said that the firm contracted to do the paving had not done so by the middle of last week.

"They were to have started Monday (Nov. 2)," Judge said.

Streets scheduled for paving are: Mitchell Avenue, Rear Gordon Avenue, Terrace Street, and Walnut Street.

The contract was awarded to Keystone Pavement and Equipment which had the low bid of $250,228.

In the spring

The paving of a road which is presently dirt should be undertaken in the spring, the MIRROR was told last week by city hall sources.

When the MIRROR first broke the news about the paving of the stretch of road between Hospital Street and North Scott Street on the city's West Side, it was hoped that the paving would be done this fall.

However, the project, to be undertaken by the Pennsylvania Department of Transportation (PennDOT), will be done in the spring as part of its detour preparation for the demolition of the Dundaff Street Viaduct.

The approval for the viaduct's demolition was given by the state's Public Utility Commission nearly two years ago — in November of 1979.

Since that time, PennDOT has been undertaking plans to dismantle the structure.

The city had battled twice before the PUC to have the structure torn down.

The first time the utility commission heard the city's case, slightly over five years ago, both PennDOT and the Delaware and Hudson Railway fought to keep the structure up and to repair it instead.

The city lost that round and 20 years ago again asked the PUC for a ruling.

That time PennDOT joined forces with the city and the utility commission ruled in their favor.

Ironically, a year ago the Delaware and Hudson Railway alleged its truckage through the city (and under the viaduct) to a siding station at its main line for many years as the railroad's main force.

No garage!

Normally dirt picked up by the city's street sweepers is the only thing dumped on the city's West Side land owned by the city.

That's what Martin P. Judge, managing director, referred to in the Carbondale Mirror last week when it asked why there were piles of leaves dumped there.

Judge said that as a precaution, anything dumped there is usually turned over by the judge added that he did not know when these deficiencies would be corrected.

The project, the third on the city's West Side and fourth in the city in the last several years, included new surface drains, storm sewers, curbs, sidewalks, and road surface.

The project also included landscaping, including 900 shrubs and 100 trees, and 100,000 pounds of mulch.

Some members of the claim have said that this strip is unnecessary. The administration, meanwhile, claims the strip was done with the property owner's blessing.

Parking meters up

City council is looking to have the city's administration is following through with a request that missing parking meters in the downtown area be replaced.

A meeting of council recently, council asked that the missing meters be replaced since the city was losing revenue.

However, it was at this time that the city

had off 10 people, including five from the Department of Public Works.

With the city short-handed, city managing director Martin P. Judge told the MIRROR that the city was unable, at the time, to get the meters up.

But last week, he told the MIRROR that pipe had been bought and that the pipes had been installed in the missing places.

He also noted that the city was in the process of installing the meter heads on those pipes.

Lighting up road?

With concerns over its unlighted condition, city officials are looking forward to the installing of street lights along West Side Drive — that stretch of road between Brooklyn Street and the Summit Garden Apartments.

The concern is doubled because the road follows very closely to the edge of the Fallbrook Creek.

Action on lighting the way is "till in limbo," the city's managing director told the MIRROR last week.

The city has sought action from the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. (PP&L) have told city officials that it could do nothing until it learns of Allied Services for the handicapped's plans for an apartment building along a road on a large corporate property on the go.

At a recent meeting of city council, the city's solicitor noted that the city's water sewer, Martin P. Judge, city managing director, had said that the city was unable to build an apartment structure for non-elderly physically handicapped people.

However, Judge contacted the DCA and the city's solicitor noted that the state people would be available to visit the city and give them a list of several dates when the city could visit.

When the MIRROR spoke with Judge last he said that he was trying to find a way to make the city's administration and the DCA.

At a recent meeting of city council, the city's solicitor noted that the city's water sewer, Martin P. Judge, city managing director, had said that the city was unable to build an apartment structure for non-elderly physically handicapped people.

However, Judge contacted the DCA and the city's solicitor noted that the state people would be available to visit the city and give them a list of several dates when the city could visit.

It then added that "it will be to everyone's benefit" to help the new industry get opened in the city.

Just a technicality

It is just a technicality that traffic violation tickets for overparking at meters have a time has expired. Minimum time for this violation is $1 if paid within the next two hours. If not paid within this time limit, an enforcement warrant will be issued and an assessment of $2 collected.

The words "an enforcement warrant will be issued" and "have been crossed off" on tickets being handed out.

City managing director Martin P. Judge told the Carbondale Mirror that it is just "some technicality" that the words had to be marked off the tickets given overtime violators.

He explained that the wording on the tickets was copied from some other source about the paving of the stretch of road between Hospital Street and North Scott Street on the city's West Side, it was hoped that the paving would be done this fall.

However, the project, to be undertaken by the Pennsylvania Department of Transportation (PennDOT), will be done in the spring as part of its detour preparation for the demolition of the Dundaff Street Viaduct.

The approval for the viaduct's demolition was given by the state's Public Utility Commission nearly two years ago — in November of 1979.

Since that time, PennDOT has been undertaking plans to dismantle the structure.

The city had battled twice before the PUC to have the structure torn down.

The first time the utility commission heard the city's case, slightly over five years ago, both PennDOT and the Delaware and Hudson Railway fought to keep the structure up and to repair it instead.

The city lost that round and 20 years ago again asked the PUC for a ruling.

That time PennDOT joined forces with the city and the utility commission ruled in their favor.

Ironically, a year ago the Delaware and Hudson Railway alleged its truckage through the city (and under the viaduct) to a siding station at its main line for many years as the railroad's main force.

No garage!

Normally dirt picked up by the city's street sweepers is the only thing dumped on the city's West Side land owned by the city.

That's what Martin P. Judge, managing director, referred to in the Carbondale Mirror last week when it asked why there were piles of leaves dumped there.

Judge said that as a precaution, anything dumped there is usually turned over by the judge added that he did not know when these deficiencies would be corrected.

The project, the third on the city's West Side and fourth in the city in the last several years, included new surface drains, storm sewers, curbs, sidewalks, and road surface.

The project also included landscaping, including 900 shrubs and 100 trees, and 100,000 pounds of mulch.

Some members of the claim have said that this strip is unnecessary. The administration, meanwhile, claims the strip was done with the property owner's blessing.

Parking meters up

City council is looking to have the city's administration is following through with a request that missing parking meters in the downtown area be replaced.

A meeting of council recently, council asked that the missing meters be replaced since the city was losing revenue.

However, it was at this time that the city had off 10 people, including five from the Department of Public Works.

</